

ACTIONS

- ATTACK See PHB pp.103-196
- PERFORM A RITE See CSPHB for the rules regarding performing a rite or whisper
- CLIMB ONTO A BIGGER CREATURE DMG p.271
- DASH Move up to 2x your current Movement
- DISARM Opposed STR or DEX check; Disadvantage if opponent is holding with both hands
- DISENGAGE Your movement doesn't provoke opportunity attacks until your next turn
- DODGE Attacks against you are at disadvantage, and you make DEX rolls with advantage. Benefit is lost if incapacitated or speed drops to 0.
- HELP Give another creature advantage on an attack or ability check (PHB p.192)
- SEARCH Devote your attention to finding something Depending on the nature of your search, the DM might have you make a Wisdom (Perception) check or an Intelligence (Investigation) check. PHB p. 193.
- HIDE Make a DEX (Stealth) check in an attempt to hide vs opposed WIS (Perception) check (see PHB p.196)

BONUS ACTION

You can take a bonus action only when a special ability, rite, or feature states that you can do something as a bonus action.

OFFHAND ATTACK

- Attack with your off hand. Only usable if you take the Attack action and attack with a light melee weapon that you're holding in one hand. Perform a single attack with a different light melee weapon that you're holding in the other hand.
- You don't add your ability modifier to the damage of the bonus attack, unless that modifier is negative.
- If either weapon has the thrown property, you can throw the weapon, instead of making a melee attack with it.

RITE OR WHISPER

- Perform a rite with a performing time of 1 bonus action
- You can't perform a rite with your action and a different rite with your bonus action in the same turn, except if the action is used to perform a whisper.

USE A CLASS FEATURE

- Some features use bonus actions

- OVERRUN STR vs. STR check to move through opponent's space
- TUMBLE DEX vs DEX to move through opponent's space
- READY Take a reaction in response to a defined trigger event, or ready a rite and hold its release (PHB p.193)
- SEARCH Make a WIS (Perception) or INT (Investigation) check
- SHOVE, SHOVE ASIDE STR vs STR or DEX to push opponent 5 ft back, to the side, or prone.
- USE A CLASS FEATURE
- USE AN OBJECT You can interact with one object for free during your turn (such as drawing a weapon, picking up something or opening a door). If you want to interact with a second object, use this action. (PHB p. 193)
- ESCAPE To escape a grapple, you must succeed on a Strength (Athletics) or Dexterity (Acrobatics) check contested by the grappler's Strength (Athletics) check. Escaping other conditions that restrain you (such as manacles) may require a Dexterity or Strength check, as specified by the condition. PHB, p. 195.

REACTION

A reaction is an instant response to a trigger of some kind, which can occur on your turn or on someone else's.

OPPORTUNITY ATTACKS

- Trigger: enemy creature leaves your reach.
- Make one melee attack against the provoking creature.
- The attack interrupts the provoking creature's movement, occurring right before the creature leaves your reach.
- Creatures don't provoke an opportunity attack when they teleport or when someone or something moves them without using their movement, action, or reaction.

READIED ACTION

- Execute the reaction specified by your Ready action
- Trigger: specified by your Ready action.

RITE OR WHISPER

- Perform a rite with a performing time of 1 reaction
- Trigger: specified by the rite or whisper.

USE A CLASS FEATURE

- Some features use reactions

CONDITIONS

BLINDED

- Creature can't see, automatically fails any ability check that requires sight.
- Attacks vs creature have advantage, creature's attacks have disadvantage.

CHARMED

- Can't attack charmer, target charmer with harmful abilities/effects.
- Charmer has advantage on check to interact socially with creature.

DEAFENED

- Creature can't hear and automatically fails any check that requires hearing.

EXHAUSTION

- Exhaustion is measured in six levels
- Level 1: Disadvantage on ability checks
- Level 2: Speed halved
- Level 3: Disadvantage on attack rolls and saving throws
- Level 4: Hit point maximum halved
- Level 5: Speed reduced to 0
- Level 6: Death
- You suffer the effect of your current level of exhaustion as well as all lower levels. Finishing a long rest reduces your exhaustion level by 1.

FRIGHTENED

- Creature has disadvantage on ability checks and attack rolls while the source of its fear is within line of sight.
- The creature can't willingly move closer to the source of its fear.

GRAPPLED

- Speed becomes 0, can't benefit from any bonus to speed.
- Condition ends if grappler is incapacitated.
- Condition also ends if an effect removes the grappled creature from the reach of the grappler or grappling effect

INCAPACITATED

- An incapacitated creature can't take actions or reactions.

INVISIBLE

- Creature is impossible to see without the aid of magic or a special sense. For the purpose of hiding, the creature is heavily obscured. Creature's location can be detected by noise or any tracks it leaves.
- Attacks vs creature have disadvantage., creature's attacks have advantage.

PARALYZED

- Creature is incapacitated, can't move/speak.
- Creature automatically fails STR and DEX saving throws.
- Attack rolls against the creature have advantage.

- Any attack that hits is critical hit if attacker is within 5 ft of creature.

PETRIFIED

- Creature is transformed, along with any non-magical object it is wearing or carrying, into solid inanimate substance (usually stone). Weight increases by x 10, creature ceases aging.
- Creature is incapacitated, can't move or speak, and is unaware of its surroundings.
- Attacks against the creature have advantage.
- The creature automatically fails STR and DEX saving throws.
- The creature has resistance to all damage.
- Creature is immune to poison and disease: poison or disease already in its system is suspended, not neutralized.

POISONED

- Creature has disadvantage on attack rolls and ability checks.

PRONE

- Creature's only movement option is to crawl, unless it stands up.
- Creature has disadvantage on attacks.
- Attacks vs creature have advantage if attacker is within 5' of creature. Otherwise, the attack has disadvantage.

RESTRAINED

- Creature's speed becomes 0, can't benefit from any bonus to its speed.
- Attacks vs creature have advantage, and creature's attacks have disadvantage.
- The creature has disadvantage on DEX saving throws.

STUNNED

- Creature is incapacitated, can't move, and can speak only falteringly.
- Creature automatically fails STR and DEX saving throws.
- Attack rolls against the creature have advantage.

UNCONSCIOUS

- Creature incapacitated, can't move/speak, unaware of surroundings.
- The creature drops whatever it's holding and falls prone.
- The creature automatically fails STR and DEX saving throws.
- Attack rolls against the creature have advantage.
- Any attack that hits is critical hit if attacker is within 5 ft of creature.

INSANE

- See below.

LOST

- Hidden to the player.

MOVEMENT

MOVE

- Movement cost: 5ft per 5ft moved
- If you have more than one speed, such as your walking speed and a flying speed, you can switch back and forth between your speeds during your move. Whenever you switch, subtract the distance you've already moved from the new speed.
- You can move through a nonhostile creature's space.
- You can move through a hostile creature's space only if the creature is at least two sizes larger or smaller than you.
- Another creature's space is difficult terrain for you.
- Whether a creature is a friend or an enemy, you can't willingly end your move in its space.

CLIMB

- Movement cost: 10ft per 5ft climbed
- May involve a Strength (Athletics) check if the climb is difficult

SWIM

- Movement cost: 10ft per 5ft swum
- May involve a Strength (Athletics) check if the swim is difficult

DROP PRONE

- You can drop prone without using any of your speed
- To move while prone, you must crawl or use magic such as teleportation
- Dropping prone adds the Prone condition (melee attacks against you have advantage, ranged attacks against you have disadvantage, your own attacks have disadvantage)

CRAWL

- Movement cost: 10ft per 5ft crawled

STAND UP

- Movement cost: half of your speed
- You can't stand up if you don't have enough movement left or if your speed is 0

HIGH JUMP

- Movement cost: 5ft per 5ft jumped

- You leap into the air a number of feet equal to 3 + your Strength modifier if you move at least 10 feet on foot immediately before the jump.
- When you make a standing high jump, you can jump only half that distance.
- You can extend your arms half your height above yourself during the jump.
- In some circumstances, your DM might allow you to make a Strength (Athletics) check to jump higher than you normally can.

LONG JUMP

- Movement cost: 5ft per 5ft jumped
- You cover a number of feet up to your Strength score if you move at least 10 feet on foot immediately before the jump.
- When you make a standing long jump, you can leap only half that distance
- May involve a DC 10 Strength (Athletics) check to clear a low obstacle (no taller than a quarter of the jump's distance). You hit the obstacle on a failed check.
- May involve a DC 10 Dexterity (Acrobatics) check to land on your feet in difficult terrain. You land prone on a failed check.

DIFFICULT TERRAIN

- Moving in difficult terrain costs an additional 5ft per 5ft of movement

GRAPPLE MOVE

- Drag or carry the grappled creature with you
- If you move while grappling another creature, your speed is halved, unless the creature is two or more sizes smaller than you. See the attack action for how to grapple a creature.

Environmental Effects

Effects that obscure vision can prove a significant hindrance to most adventuring tasks.

Lightly obscured	Heavily obscured
Disadvantage on Perception.	Effectively blind.
Dim light, patchy fog, moderate foliage.	Darkness, opaque fog, dense foliage.
Creatures have disadvantage on Wisdom (Perception) checks that rely on sight.	A creature in a heavily obscured area effectively suffers from the blinded condition.

The presence or absence of light in an environment creates three categories of illumination.

Bright light	Dim light	Darkness
Normal vision.	Lightly obscured.	Heavily obscured.
Bright light lets most creatures see normally.	Dim light, also called shadows. Creates a lightly obscured area.	Creates a heavily obscured area.
Gloomy days still provide bright light, as do torches, lanterns, fires, and other sources of illumination within a specific radius.	An area of dim light is usually a boundary between a source of bright light, such as a torch, and surrounding darkness. The soft light of twilight and dawn also counts as dim light. A particularly brilliant full moon might bathe the land in dim light.	Characters face darkness outdoors at night (unless a very moonlit night), within the confines of an unlit catacomb or a subterranean vault, or in an area of magical darkness.

Some creatures have extraordinary senses that allow them to perceive their environment.

Blindsight	Darkvision	Truesight
Perceive without sight.	Limited vision in darkness.	See in darkness. And see the truth of the world.
Perceive your surroundings without relying on sight, within a certain radius	A creature with Darkvision can see better in the dark or low light conditions, within a certain radius	A creature with truesight can see everything in its true form, independent of the environment
Creatures without eyes, such as oozes, and creatures with echolocation or heightened senses, such as bats and true dragons, have this sense.	Within a specified range, a creature with darkvision can see in darkness as if the darkness were dim light, so areas of darkness are only lightly obscured as far as that creature is concerned. However, the creature can't discern color in darkness, only shades of gray.	A creature with truesight can, out to a specific range, see in normal and magical darkness, see invisible creatures and objects, automatically detect visual illusions and succeed on saving throws against them, and perceives the original form of a shape-changer or a creature that is transformed by magic. Furthermore, the creature can see into other planes.

SUFFOCATING

- A creature can hold its breath for a number of rounds equal to 10 × (1 + its Constitution modifier), to a minimum of 5 rounds.
- When it runs out of breath, it can survive for a number of rounds equal to its CON Mod. At the start of its next turn, it drops to 0 hp and is dying.

Weight Conditions

Total Weight	Condition	Effect
No more than Strength × 2 lb.	Featherweight	Your speed increases by 5 ft.
More than Strength × 5 lb.	Encumbered	Your speed is reduced by 10 ft.
More than Strength × 10 lb.	Heavily Encumbered	Your speed is reduced by 20 ft. You have disadvantage on Strength and Dexterity, ability checks, attack rolls, and saving throws.
More than Strength × 15 lb.	Over Capacity	You cannot carry this weight normally.

Insane Condition

Trigger. When your current Madness equals or exceeds your Max Sanity, you gain the Insane condition.

Ending the Condition. The Insane condition ends immediately when your current Madness is reduced below your Max Sanity.

Insane Quirk. When you gain the Insane condition, roll a d100 and consult the Insane Quirks table. You retain the rolled Quirk until the Insane condition ends.

Madness Die. While Insane, you have a Madness Die. The Madness Die is an 8-sided die with three Blank faces, three Star faces, and two Eye faces.

Unstable Violence. Once per turn, when you take the Attack action or perform a harmful Rite, choose your target or area as normal. Before resolving the attack or Rite, roll the Madness Die.

Star. Resolve the attack or Rite normally.

Blank. The attack or Rite turns against your nearest ally instead. If more than one ally is equally near, you choose which one is targeted. If no ally is within range, you must spend available movement to bring an ally within range or reach, if possible. If no ally can be targeted after this movement, the attack or Rite turns inward and targets you instead.

Eye. For one moment, you understand what you are about to do. You may either end your turn immediately with no effect, or roll the Madness Die again. If the second roll is another Eye, the vision breaks you: roll your Sanity Die, suffer that much Mind damage, and gain 1 Madness.

Cracked Perception. While Insane, you have Advantage on Wisdom (Perception) checks and Intelligence (Eldritch Knowledge) checks made to notice unnatural things, hidden entities, dream-architecture, impossible movement, or occult distortions.

Insane Quirk Table

d100	Insane Quirk
01–10	Bound Shadow. Choose the character belonging to the player seated immediately to your left when this Quirk is rolled. You must use your available movement to end each of your turns within 5 feet of that character, if possible. You cannot willingly move farther than 5 feet from them unless no legal alternative exists.
11–18	Burden Hunger. You keep every unattended portable item you discover until you are Encumbered or worse. If an item requires an unavailable item slot, you must seek another object you can carry instead. If you cease being Encumbered, the compulsion immediately returns. During combat, you are required to collect only items already within reach or directly along your movement.
19–28	Compulsive Falsehood. Every factual statement you knowingly make must be false. You may still ask questions, issue commands, make meaningless noises, or remain silent.
29–36	Paranoid Contrarian. You believe every instruction is an attempt to manipulate you. You must refuse any direct instruction given to you and, when there is a clear and reasonably safe opposite action, attempt that instead.
37–48	Gallows Mirth. You cannot take anything seriously. The more dangerous, solemn, tragic, or frightening a situation becomes, the funnier you find it. This does not make you immune to fear, danger, or consequences.
49–54	Voiceless. You lose the ability to speak or produce intelligible words. You may still make noises and communicate through gestures. This does not prevent you from performing a Rite unless that Rite explicitly requires speech.
55–64	One-Word Mind. Whenever you speak, you may utter only one word. You cannot speak another word until another creature speaks, or until the beginning of your next turn.
65–69	Compulsive Obedience. You must attempt the first clear instruction you hear from another creature. You continue attempting it until it is completed, becomes impossible, or another instruction replaces it. You are not compelled to follow an instruction that is obviously and immediately self-destructive, as determined by the GM.
70–81	Predatory Urge. During combat, you must make at least one attack against an enemy or perform at least one harmful Rite affecting an enemy during each of your turns, if possible. If you cannot, you must use your movement and available actions to place yourself in a position to do so on your next turn.
82–91	Sir Deadly Blade of the Night. Your name is now Sir Deadly Blade of the Night. A creature must begin any sentence addressed to you by using this full name. Otherwise, you ignore everything it says and, when able, respond only: “Excuse me. My name is Sir Deadly Blade of the Night.”
92–95	Ruined Presence. You suffer a –5 penalty to Charisma checks and Charisma saving throws. This penalty does not change your Charisma modifier for class features, Rite statistics, resource maximums, or other derived values.
96–100	Blood Revulsion. You refuse to willingly drink or receive a Blood Vial. You resist any attempt to administer one while you are conscious and capable of resisting.

Reducing Transformation Level
Your Transformation Level is reduced only when a rule, effect, rest, or condition specifically says so.

Short Rest. When you finish a Short Rest, reduce your Transformation Level by 1 and lose all active Transformations. During the same Short Rest, you may make a DC 13 Constitution (Grit) check. On a success, reduce your Transformation Level by 1 additional level.

Long Rest. When you finish a Long Rest, reduce your Transformation Level to 0 and lose all active Transformations.

Unconscious. The first time you gain the Unconscious condition after gaining a Transformation, reduce your Transformation Level by 2 and lose all active Transformations. You cannot reduce your Transformation Level this way again until you finish a Short or Long Rest, or until you gain another Transformation.

Core Terms Transformation

Transformation Level
Your Transformation Level is the number from 0–10 that shows how far your blood has shifted. When you gain 1 Transformation Level, increase your Transformation Level by 1, then roll on the Transformation Table using your new Transformation Level.

Transformation
A Transformation is a mutation result gained from the Transformation Table, such as Dreadblood Eyes, Dreadblood Ears, Blood Fangs, or Mutated Arm. These are active transformations and remain until a rule says you lose them.

Transformation Table Result
A result on the Transformation Table is not always a Transformation. Nothing Happens is not a Transformation. Blood Lust is a compulsion result, not a Transformation. Lost is a special catastrophic result that counts as a Transformation.

Chases

- During the chase, participants can freely use the DASH action a number of times equal to 3 + its CON modifier.
- Each additional DASH requires the creature to succeed on a DC 10 CON check at the end of its turn or take one level of Exhaustion.
- Stopping to cast spells will allow the pursued to increase their lead, and may well mean they will get away, but it is certainly not forbidden.

ENDING THE CHASE

- Each quarry makes a DEX (Stealth) check at the end of each round, after everyone has had their turn. The result is compared to the Passive PER score of the pursuer(s).
- If the quarry is NEVER out of the pursuer's sight, the check fails automatically.
- Otherwise, if the Stealth check is higher than the PER score, the quarry escapes. If not, the chase continues.

ESCAPE FACTORS

Factor	Stealth Check Has...
Quarry has many things to hide behind	Advantage
Quarry is in a very crowded or noisy area	Advantage
Quarry has few things to hide behind	Disadvantage
Quarry is in an uncrowded or quiet area	Disadvantage
The lead pursuer is a ranger or has proficiency in Survival	Disadvantage

CHASE COMPLICATIONS

As with any good chase scene, complications can arise to make a chase more pulse-pounding.

Complications occur randomly. Each participant in the chase rolls a d20 at the end of its turn. Consult the appropriate table to determine whether a complication occurs. If it does, it affects the next chase participant in the initiative order, not the participant who rolled the die. The participant who rolled the die or the participant affected by the complication can spend inspiration to negate the complication.

URBAN CHASE COMPLICATIONS		WILDERNESS CHASE COMPLICATIONS
d20	Complication	d20	Complication
1	A large obstacle such as a horse or cart blocks your way. Make a DC 15 Dexterity (Acrobatics) check to get past the obstacle. On a failed check, the obstacle counts as 10 feet of difficult terrain.	1	Your path takes you through a rough patch of brush. Make a DC 10 Strength (Athletics) or Dexterity (Acrobatics) check (your choice) to get past the brush. On a failed check, the brush counts as 5 feet of difficult terrain.
2	A crowd blocks your way. Make a DC 10 Strength (Athletics) or Dexterity (Acrobatics) check (your choice) to make your way through the crowd unimpeded. On a failed check, the crowd counts as 10 feet of difficult terrain.	2	Uneven ground threatens to slow your progress. Make a DC 10 Dexterity (Acrobatics) check to navigate the area. On a failed check, the ground counts as 10 feet of difficult terrain.
3	A large stained-glass window or similar barrier blocks your path. Make a DC 10 Strength saving throw to smash through the barrier and keep going. On a failed save, you bounce off the barrier and fall prone.	3	You run through a swarm of insects (see the Monster Manual for game statistics, with the DM choosing whichever kind of insects makes the most sense). The swarm makes an opportunity attack against you (+3 to hit; 4d4 piercing damage on a hit).
4	A maze of barrels, crates, or similar obstacles stands in your way. Make a DC 10 Dexterity (Acrobatics) or Intelligence check (your choice) to navigate the maze. On a failed check, the maze counts as 10 feet of difficult terrain.	4	A stream, ravine, or rock bed blocks your path. Make a DC 10 Strength (Athletics) or Dexterity (Acrobatics) check (your choice) to cross the impediment. On a failed check, the impediment counts as 10 feet of difficult terrain.
5	The ground beneath your feet is slippery with rain, spilled oil, or some other liquid. Make a DC 10 Dexterity saving throw. On a failed save, you fall prone.	5	Make a DC 10 Constitution saving throw. On a failed save, you are blinded by blowing sand, dirt, ash, snow, or pollen until the end of your turn. While blinded in this way, your speed is halved.
6	You come upon a pack of dogs fighting over food. Make a DC 10 Dexterity (Acrobatics) check to get through the pack unimpeded. On a failed check, you are bitten and take 1d4 piercing damage, and the dogs count as 5 feet of difficult terrain.	6	A sudden drop catches you by surprise. Make a DC 10 Dexterity saving throw to navigate the impediment. On a failed save, you fall 1d4 x 5 feet, taking 1d6 bludgeoning damage per 10 feet fallen as normal, and land prone.
7	You run into a brawl in progress. Make a DC 15 Strength (Athletics), Dexterity (Acrobatics), or Charisma (Intimidation) check (your choice) to get past the brawlers unimpeded. On a failed check, you take 2d4 bludgeoning damage, and the brawlers count as 10 feet of difficult terrain.	7	You blunder into a hunter's snare. Make a DC 15 Dexterity saving throw to avoid it. On a failed save, you are caught in a net and restrained. See chapter 5, "Equipment," of the Player's Handbook for rules on escaping a net.
8	A beggar blocks your way. Make a DC 10 Strength (Athletics), Dexterity (Acrobatics), or Charisma (Intimidation) check (your choice) to slip past the beggar. You succeed automatically if you toss the beggar a coin. On a failed check, the beggar counts as 5 feet of difficult terrain.	8	You are caught in a stampede of spooked animals. Make a DC 10 Dexterity saving throw. On a failed save, you are knocked about and take 1d4 bludgeoning damage and 1d4 piercing damage.
9	An overzealous guard, (see the Monster Manual for game statistics), mistakes you for someone else. If you move 20 feet or more on your turn, the guard makes an opportunity attack against you with a spear (+3 to hit; 1d6 + 1 piercing damage on a hit)	9	Your path takes you near a patch of razorvine. Make a DC 15 Dexterity saving throw or use 10 feet of movement (your choice) to avoid the razorvine. On a failed save, you take 1d10 slashing damage.
10	You are forced to make a sharp turn to avoid colliding with something impassable. Make a DC 10 Dexterity saving throw to navigate the turn. On a failed save, you collide with something hard and take 1d4 bludgeoning damage.	10	A creature indigenous to the area chases after you. The DM chooses a creature appropriate for the terrain.
11-20	No complication.	11-20	No complication.
